Promoting British Values at Lordswood School

The DfE has recently reinforced the need “to create and enforce a clear and rigorous expectation on all schools to promote the fundamental British values of democracy, the rule of law, individual liberty and mutual respect and tolerance of those with different faiths and beliefs.”

The government set out its definition of British values in the 2011 Prevent Strategy, and these values have been reiterated by the Prime Minister this year. At Lordswood School, these values are reinforced regularly and in the following ways:
Our teaching and learning goals are underpinned by our own School Values.

Throughout the school, British Values are promoted in a wide variety of ways. Below are just some aspects of school life that enable children to understand these fundamentals as they move on through their time at school.

Value	How We Promote It
Democracy Links to school values: Respect Tolerance Understanding Responsibility Integrity Accountability UN CRC Article 12: Children have the right to say what they think should happen, when adults are making decisions that affect them, and to have their opinions taken into account.	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • We have an elected a School Council and have also elected Year 6 leaders (House and Sports Captains). This is used as an opportunity to promote and teach about democracy and the electoral process. • We encourage children to take responsibility for their school community by being implicit in decisions about resources and the environment. We fully advocate children as leaders. • Democracy is also promoted through additional PSHE lessons and assemblies. • Children are taught about the United Nations Convention on the Rights of the Child and learn to respect their rights and the rights of others.
The rule of law Links to school values: Respect Perseverance Courage Honesty Responsibility Positivity Caring UN CRC Article 19: Governments should ensure that children are properly	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • We have high expectations about pupil conduct and this is reflected in our Behaviour Policy. There are rewards for exhibiting good and caring behaviour and consistent demonstration of our values is recognised through such things as Super stars, Gold book and House awards. • Through our school assemblies, circle time and PSHE children are taught how to earn trust and respect and are supported to develop a strong sense of morality; knowing right from wrong and doing the right thing even when it’s difficult. • The local police officer / PCSO visit the school to talk to the children and explain about their role in society.

cared for, and protect them from violence, abuse and neglect by their parents, or anyone else who looks after them.	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Children are taught about the United Nations Convention on the Rights of the Child and learn to respect their rights and the rights of others. • Children are appointed as ambassadors to uphold agreed values and commitment to improving their school. • Children are taught about dangers such as drugs, knife crime, etc.
Individual liberty Links to school values: Respect Courage Trust Perseverance UN CRC Article 31: All children have a right to relax and play, and to join in a wide range of activities. UN CRC Article 15: Children have the right to meet together and to join groups and organisations, as long as this does not stop other people from enjoying their rights.	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Through our school values and the SEAL PSHE program, children are taught about personal responsibility, choices, ambition and aspiration. They are encouraged to take opportunities to follow their interests in art, music, sport etc. • PSHE scheme of work has specific units relating to individual liberty including ‘Good To Be Me!’ • Children are taught how to keep themselves safe, including on-line. This is done through termly E-Safety lessons, assemblies and outside organisations such as the NSPCC, The Fire service as well as through the PSHE curriculum. • Children are taught about the United Nations Convention on the Rights of the Child and learn to respect their rights and the rights of others.
Mutual respect Links to school values: Respect Friendship Humility Compassion Caring UN CRC Article 2: The Convention applies to everyone whatever their race, religion, abilities, whatever they think or say and whatever type of family they come from. UN CRC Article 30: Children have a right to learn and use the language and customs of their families, whether these are shared by the majority of people in the country or not.	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • We have high expectations about pupil conduct and this is reflected in our Behaviour Policy and Equal Opportunity Policy. • Children are taught about the United Nations Convention on the Rights of the Child and learn to respect their rights and the rights of others. • Through our school’s values, PSHE scheme, PSHE and circle time children are taught to respect each other, to be cooperative and collaborative, be supportive and to look for similarities while being understanding of differences. • The PSHE theme of ‘Getting on and Falling Out’ explores these issues well. • Mutual respect is also promoted through additional PSHE lessons and assemblies. A range of specific assemblies are delivered focusing on helping other pupils to understand specific special needs. • Children are taught about the United Nations Convention on the Rights of the Child and learn to respect their rights and the rights of others.

Tolerance of different faiths and beliefs Links to school values: Respect Tolerance Empathy Humility Fairness Ethical UN CRC Article 14: Children have the right to think and believe what they want, and to practise their religion, as long as they are not stopping other people from enjoying their rights. Parents should guide their children on these matters.	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • We have high expectations about pupil conduct and this is reflected in our Behaviour Policy and Equality, Diverse and Equal opportunities Policy. • All staff have completed Prevent training. • Tolerance of different faiths and beliefs is promoted through the Curriculum for Religious Education. Children learn about different religions, their beliefs, places of worship and festivals. The children’s work on this subject or whole school learning in assemblies is often displayed in the classrooms or around the school. • This is supplemented by assemblies (Key Stage and whole school), which also mark and celebrate significant religious festivals such as Ramadan and Diwali. • Visits are made by local religious leaders and children have the opportunity to visit places of worship. • Children are taught about the United Nations Convention on the Rights of the Child and learn to respect their rights and the rights of others.
